Council to hear appeals

PLEASANTON — A proposed Montessori school at 417 Sycamore Road, denied by planning commissioners last month because of possible traffic problems, will be weighed Monday night by the city council.

The denial was appealed to the council by Paul and Elizabeth Marshall, who want to open a school in their home for as many as 20 youngsters from three to six years old.

City staff told commissioners that the site was probably appropriate for a school, but that the Sunol Boulevard and Sycamore intersection where the youngsters might be crossing has proved dangerous.

The staff recommended that councilmen deny the appeal.

But the staff added that if the school is approved, it should be subject to nine conditions — including street improvements to be paid for by the Marshalls.

Neighbors in the Happy Valley area spoke for and against the proposed school at last month's commission meeting.

The council will also consider the appeal of a planning commission decision that last month denied Carl Graffenstatte Jr. permission to expand his service station at the corner of Main and St. Marys streets.

Expansion of the station had already begun when the city told Graffenstatte he would have to obtain a conditional use permit before he could complete the work.

"We feel that a real dilemma is posed by the application," said a staff report. It said a service station was probably not appropriate for the downtown corner, but that Graffenstatte has a right to reopen it as it existed under a former owner.

"Since the former service station created clearly unacceptable traffic circulation problems, we obviously are not anxious to see that situation recreated," it said.

But the staff recommended approval of a new design for the station, which it said would help relieve congestion by forcing traffic to exit from the station 72 feet from the intersection.

In the past, traffic could leave or enter the heavily used station only 14 feet from the corner.

The staff, which noted it disagreed with the commission over the station's impact on traffic problems in the area, said the new design would also be more aesthetically pleasing than the existing station.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in the Pleasanton Justice Court, 30 W. Angela St.

Livermore to review sewer need

LIVERMORE — A projected population of 63,575 for the city will mandate a 6.36 billion gallon per day sewer capacity in 1996, the Livermore-Amador Valley Water Management Agency estimates.

This and other proposed sewage flow capacities and population projections will be a major topic of discussion at tomorrow night's regular meeting of the city council.

The Citizens' Advisory Council on Public Transit will recommend subscriber dial-a-ride service be implemented during peak hours, and zonal dial-a-ride during off-peak hours. Members of the committee will be in attendance to discuss the recommendations.

The city council will be asked to declare Ravenswood an historical monument, and to approve its restoration with a waiver from standard building codes.

The council meets in Municipal Court Chambers, 39 South Livermore Ave. at 8 p.m. Monday.

THE NEW LINK BETWEEN THE VALLEY AND THE BAY IS FINALLY SHOWING SIGNS OF PROGRESS

Winding, bumpy detours

I-580 prompts problems

"It's a long, long road... with many a windin'" begins the refrain to a popular song of a few years ago, and it appears that the widening of Interstate 580 will follow just that pattern.

Motorists who daily wend their way through crowded Dublin Canyon have noticed that work is under way on the long-awaited widening of the freeway from two lanes to three in each direction, but little order has come out of the chaos as yet.

However, Lynn Miller and J.E. Somerville of the California Department of Transportation (CalTrans) promise that there is indeed a plan, and that soon commuters will notice some radical shifts.

The first will come sometime next spring or early summer when eastbound (to Livermore) lanes will be shifted from their present place below the westbound lanes onto some newly-laid blacktop.

That newly-laid blacktop will start falling into place soon. Right now, motorists are being shunted to the outside of the westbound lanes so that a detour can be constructed in the median strip. Once that strip is completed, the commuters will wind up on the detour while the final, permanent road is constructed on the outside (or northerly edge).

Then, traffic will be shifted to the permanent road on the outside while the inside permanent road is going in. Finally, eastbound traffic will be rerouted onto the new pavement while the new eastbound lanes are being constructed.

One interesting feature about the finished product is that the completed freeway will be level from north to south — no longer will eastbound traffic be way below the westbound.

"The general design is that most of the dirt is in the east and most of the fill is in the west," said Somerville. "It also has to be moved from the north side of the freeway to south."

The reason for the leveling of the roadbed is so that the 80 foot median strip for BART will be level as well — although when BART or another form of mass transit will be installed is problematical.

In fact, the whole time scale for this segment of the project is problematical. It depends on "the weather, the equipment they (the contractor) can get and how efficient they are," said Somerville.

The contractor has 700 working days to widen the freeway from the Foothill Road interchange to Eden Canyon Road. There are approximately 225 working days, weather-wise, in a normal year, but legitimate delays — strikes, right-of-way purchase postponements and material hangups — could allow the contractor more time.

Of course, each delay costs him more, as well, due to inflation and labor costs, so he wants to complete the $31 million project on time. "If he does not make it within a legitimate time extension," Miller said "he will be substantially penalized."

The project will be constructed from east to west, with most of the widening occurring to the north. The frontage road will be running along the present eastbound lanes while the new westbound lanes will be in the hills the bulldozers are cutting right now.

The other large segment of the project is the Foothill Road interchange. Sometime next spring or early summer — if all goes well — the present cloverleaf configuration of the interchange will be altered into a diamond shape and a traffic light will be put in to aid eastbound commuters turning north onto San Ramon Road.

The first step is to build a completely new bridge, then tear down the old overpass and then build another new bridge. The total new construction will result in a four-lane overpass with a median strip and restoration of the cloverleaf.

At no time will traffic between Foothill Road and Dublin be disrupted.

Although the present design calls for three lanes in each direction (with a truck lane westbound to the summit) and one of the lanes reserved for car pools and buses, it would be relatively easy to shift the project to four lanes in each direction.

"It's very late in the contract that you can't make the shift to four lanes," said Miller, which gives a glimmer of hope to those still pushing for an eight lane freeway.

However, eight lane or six lane, there's a lot of windy road and bumpy detour between today and a true interstate freeway connection between Dublin and Hayward.

Encyclopedia quiz

Pleasanton gains national status

PLEASANTON — The city, which as anyone knows is big enough now to appear on any respectable map, apparently is also big enough to have found its own niche in Encyclopedia Americana.

The city received a letter last week that said the encyclopedia company hoped to include a new article on Pleasanton in its next edition.

Included with the letter was a list of questions about Pleasanton that readers of Encyclopedia Americana are apparently eager to learn the answers to.

But the city hall employee who was assigned the task of filling out the questionnaire had to pause and scratch her head over some of the queries.

The company wanted to know the major industries in Pleasanton and what kind of products are manufactured there. The employee figured the gravel companies represent the major industry, and they manufacture — well, gravel.

"Four gravel companies adjacent to the city, plus a publisher and book-binding firm," she wrote. "Also have a Kaiser Aluminum Research Center within the city."

The encyclopedia company, for some reason, also wanted to know about major military posts.

"Camp Parks is adjacent to this city," she wrote. "During World War II it was an active base for troops and prisoners (the letter didn't leave much room for long sentences). Today only used on occasion for training purposes."

The real problem came with this one: "Any museums or other places of public interest?"

"We do have a Historical Museum located at the fairgrounds," was the reply. But there didn't seem to be any other places of public interest.

The rest of the questionnaire went like this:

Walnut Drive residents nix redevelopment plan

PLEASANTON — One of the largest residential areas included in the city's Planned Redevelopment District is petitioning the city council to be removed from the $20 million venture.

Owners of 27 homes on Walnut Drive signed the petition which will be submitted to the city council on Monday.

"Under no stretch of the imagination can we understand how you can include Walnut Drive in the Redevelopment Agency as being a blighted area," the petition states.

Walnut Drive is the second residential area within the Old Town to indicate it wants no part of that redevelopment project. Home owners above Second Street had previously expressed their unhappiness over the city program, which is designed to drain taxes away from the planned Stoneridge Regional Center and into utility and street improvements for the core area.

City council is scheduled to make a final decision on that redevelopment district in November.

Curb painting campaign dropped in Pleasanton

Pleasanton is one valley community that is not going to have its curbs painted red, white and blue. At least not this year.

The goal was to have every house number in the valley identified with the colorful numbers, to be stenciled on the curb. Dublin and San Ramon are already well underway with that project, and Livermore's Bicentennial Committee is hopeful of getting city council approval to have "every house number in town stenciled on the curb."

But Pleasanton added one condition that the sponsoring firm apparently finds unacceptable.

"They insist on doing every house in the city, and we insisted that only those residents who first consent to the idea have their curb stenciled," explained Ken Mercer, chairman of the Pleasanton Bicentennial Commission. Mercer felt that "some people may object to this, and we don't want to force anything down the public's throat."

So the "Young American Bicentennial Promotion Agency" says it will pass up Pleasanton in this fall's curb-side painting spree.

"Maybe they'll return next spring, and do it our way," Mercer said.

Housing unit supports low-income proposals

PLEASANTON — The Housing Authority last week agreed to recommend the city council request up to 30 low-income housing units, to be run by the Alameda County Housing Authority under new federal regulations.

In the past, the authority hoped to have up to 75 units of low-income housing but managed to get only two.

That was because the federal government did not provide enough money to help subsidize the level of rent in pleasanton, said John Bowling, director of the department of housing and community development.

And he said the new subsidy regulations pose the same threat.

"The rent structure is too low to operate within the city limits of Pleasanton, but we're going to try," he said.

The issue will come before the council Monday night.

Chamber eyes redevelopment

PLEASANTON — The Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday and ask its members to approve a resolution requesting the city council prepare a list of priorities for the proposed redevelopment plan and conduct a review of the list every five years.

The Chamber had previously given its endorsement to redevelopment, but pressure from Citizens Against ReDevelopment (CARD) led them to offer this revised support resolution. The last three general membership meetings featured speakers from both sides of the plan.

All members are urged to attend the noon meeting Tuesday, Sept. 23 at the Pleasanton Hotel to vote their feelings on endorsing the $27 million, 45-year plan.

Fire pressure check

Livermore Firemen Steve Pinto (above) and Mike Burkett test water pressure at a hydrant on Las Positas. Pinto says the tests are conducted annually to insure the proper amount of water pressure is reaching each outlet. He added that rocks sometime shoot out of the hydrant like bullets, and a foot-long lead pipe was found in one earlier. Times photo by Bill Cauble

New Town designer tells of plan's bikeway network

"Las Positas New Town is being planned as a community where the automobile still serves, but does not dominate."

So says Lee Ham, President of Wilsey and Ham of Foster City, the designers and project coordinators for Las Positas New Town.

One aspect of the planning for Las Positas is a hoped-for extensive use of bicycles and bicycle pathways with in the controversial development.

The concept presently envisions predominantly separate bicycle routes and pedestrian paths which would connect and interlace the four separate villages and their neighborhood components with a central urban core and industrial park covering approximately 4,000 acres.

The bicycle routes serving the 15,000 dwellings and population of 40,000 would lead to all schools, libraries, and cultural centers as well as to the shopping centers and village community centers. Naturally, a bicycle link would be provided to a mass transit and local transportation terminal in the central core area, says Ham.

The bike paths would augment the collector streets that feed into a ring road surrounding the central core area and connect the core with the village and industrial park, according to the plan.

"There really would be little need for the automobile within Las Positas New Town" Ham says "and as a result, auto emissions that contribute to air pollution would be considerably reduced compared to existing communities of similar size."

The Alameda County Bikeways Task Force did a study of both bicycles and other modes of transportation and come up with the following projections:

1. By 1990, some 9,883,000 individual vehicle trips will travel 96,618,000 miles daily in the area, averaging 9.78 miles.

2. Of the daily vehicle trips in 1990, estimates are 25.8 per cent work trips.

3. The Environmental Protection Agency states that currently 40 per cent of all work trips are four miles or less. (A study for BART indicates 50 per cent of all work trips, today, in the Bay Area are five miles or less.) These ranges are easily traveled by bicycle.

4. The Bikeways Study projects that if just 25 per cent of all the five and under work trips were converted to bicycle transportation, it would reduce actual daily auto trips in 1990 by 3.2 per cent and actual daily vehicle miles by 1.6 per cent.

The theme of the ball is the "Spirit of '76" and will incorporate a costume contest with awards for different categories. More information will follow on this later. All Pleasanton residents and their guests are invited to attend the celebration and join in bringing in the Bicentennial year, — 1976!

Profits from this event will go to the Bicentennial Committee and to various Heritage Committee projects; one being a book on the City of Pleasanton, to tell its history with words as well as many pictures.

Tickets will go on sale on a first come, first serve basis, beginning Oct. 15 Lee Mercer will serve as ticket chairman. Chairpersons for the event are Judy Hanly and Renee Spiliotopoulos.

Twenty-one units entered Big band test slated

PLEASANTON — Twenty-one high school bands have entered "Americana '76, A Band Review and Halftime Competition," scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 8 and being organized by the Foothill High School Band Boosters Club.

Highlight of the all-day gathering of stand-out prep bands from throughout northern and central California will be a show and competition by 15 of the bands at Amador Valley High's football field, commencing at 7 p.m. on Nov. 8.

The Band Boosters Club and Robert Moorefield, band and music instructor at Foothill High, are hopeful of gaining another eight to 10 entries before the entry deadline of Friday, Oct. 17.

Bands entered to date are those from John Swett (Crockett), Willits, Prospect (Saratoga), Live Oak (Morgan Hill), Crestmoor (San Bruno), Modesto, Dublin, Amador Valley, Silver Creek (San Jose), Los Altos, Armijo (Fairfield), Kennedy (Fremont), Livermore, Downey (Modesto), Sunnyvale, Piedmont Hills (San Jose), Clovis and Glendora. The latter band, from the San Gabriel Valley in southern California, will appear the following day at the Oakland Raiders game.

Initial event on Nov. 8 will be a parade of all bands from Amador Valley High to the County Fairgrounds. The march will start at 11 a.m.

Bands will be judged on musicianship, marching and showmanship by a panel of renowned music educators.

Fifteen bands will be selected to put on 7-to-9 minute halftime-type shows that evening. Awards will be made for musicianship, marching and showmanship with bands divided into "A," "B" and "C" groupings according to school enrollment. First, second and third place awards are planned for the halftime-type presentations. Four awards will be given in each of the parade categories as well as for drum majors, percussion, unit and flag sections.

Each band will pay a $25 entry fee. Those revenues plus proceeds from food concessions and programs at the evening show will go towards paying for trophies.

The prime trophy, as in most band competitions, will be the sweepstakes award ... to be presented to the best overall band. Moorefield said the trophy is to be purchased by the Bicentennial Committee.

Alisal's "Adventure Playground" is a children's delight.

Jim Scott's big idea

Alisal's adventure playground

PLEASANTON — When Jim Scott at Alisal School throws out a hint about upgrading a play area, the Army, Navy and an armada of parents come charging!

Scott, faculty members and parents realized the need for a unique playground for children in the area more than a year ago. They got down to the drawing board and started marshaling forces eight months ago. What has resulted could well be the envy of schools throughout the valley.

The project has involved teachers, parents, Army and Navy reserve personnel, members of the classified staff and Scott himself. What the parents and teachers couldn't come up with, the reserve units and interested community firms have.

It also helps to have contacts!

Like Mike Crowley and Dan Lufkin.

Crowley, a Livermore resident, applied his consummate engineering skills in working with Scott, parents, custodian Earl Taylor and 15 members of a Naval Reserve Cargo Handling Battalion.

Lufkin, a teacher at Amador and former star athlete at the University of California, is known as Major Lufkin on weekends when drilling with his reserve unit at Camp Parks. He brought out 25 men "and one WAC," according to Scott, and they put in a full day of work Aug. 23.

The Navy cargo group, 15 strong, brought supplies and materials the weekend of Aug. 9-10.

Crowley initiated the project by getting kids, teachers and parents involved in the planning with the youngsters building a model of the proposed "Adventure Playground."

The group had work parties every other Saturday, digging ditches, placing and bolting tires, putting in posts, stretching cargo nets and placing cement pipe donated by a Hayward pipe firm.

A platform was constructed from which to stretch the nets, tires were put around the posts and put together as a ladder leading up to the platform.

The playground, built on the same theme as one at Walnut Grove, is now two-thirds complete with plans for the final phase in hand. The area has been developed for maximum wear and tear.

As a safety precaution, Scott talked to each class at Alisal and took them out to the playground to orientate youngsters on the "dos" and "don'ts" of using the play area. He has been amazed by the number of children the play area has absorbed — noting that it has a potential "clientele" of 700 kids!

He says that upwards of 100 parents have come to the school to observe the playground.

School board may declare impasse

LIVERMORE — If Livermore teachers reject the school board's final offer of a 6 per cent raise, the board will declare an impasse and turn their case over to a board of review.

That was the announcement yesterday from Dr. Justin Bardellini, assistant superintendent for educational services and the school board's representative to the Certificated Employees Council, the negotiating body. Teachers are represented on CEC through Livermore Education Association negotiators.

"The board is concerned about our current deficit financing situation that cuts into the reserve about $250,000-$300,000 each year," Bardellini said in a memo on the salary proposal.

Teachers will, on most steps of the salary scale, be getting an average increase of 2.4 per cent for longevity in addition to the 6 per cent across the board raise. Also, the district will be paying almost 1 per cent more in insurance costs to maintain current medical and dental benefits.

Bicentennial tour of heritage homes

They found a home that has everything

By LILLY AULT
After being residents in Pleasanton for eight years and looking for their present home for two years, the Fred Kirschbaum family at 303 Neal Street, located the place that had "everything they wanted in a home."

Those taking the Heritage House Tour on Sunday, Oct. 5, sponsored by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee, will readily agree with Kirschbaums, as their "new" home will be included on this tour.

Although still in the process of renovating the rooms, after eight months of long hard hours of labor and undivided attention, the Kirschbaums have made tremendous headway in getting the decor of the house to be what they want.

The home sits on two thirds of an acre, giving the "big yard" the family was trying to locate plus some big trees. The attic and basement, a rarity for California homes, are already a great enjoyment to the children.

The Kirschbaum kitchen is brightly decorated in yellows and whites, with an added tile counter space and a wall knocked out to insert the refrigerator into the wall. Double original windows in the kitchen dining area, give a view of the side yard while dining. Fred plans to restore this area into a flower garden.

The huge library-parlor area is elegantly decorated with orange tones. The furniture looks as though it was made just for the room. Bonnie's decorating talents compliment her husband's fine handy work. Fred claims he has never performed such a task of work, but from his finished projects one would consider him an old pro.

The house is decorated with many beautiful antique pieces, some of which have been in Bonnie's family for six generations. Her oldest daughter's bed, a very attractive piece of furniture, was the bed Bonnie's grandmother was born in.

The Kirschbaums have not as yet had the time to begin re-doing the upstairs, however, each bedroom is so uniquely shaped that they already possess a personality and charm that will only be complimented with the added talents of Fred and Bonnie.

THE HOME OF THE FRED KIRSCHBAUM FAMILY at 303 Neal Street in Pleasanton is one of five heritage homes featured in a tour to be sponsored by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee Oct. 5 from noon to 5 p.m. A limited number of tickets for the adults-only tour at $5 per person or $2.50 for senior citizens are available at the Pleasanton Park and Recreation Department, Bernal Avenue office, at the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce, at Sage Book Store, or by mailing a check to the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee, Box 252, Pleasanton. Complete directions to houses and parking are included with the tickets.

Although the heritage home has not had any work performed on it since approximately the early 40's, the Kirschbaums do not intend to make the renovation a continuous project. They are giving the home their top priority as "we don't want to be living in a continuous mess," stated Bonnie. "Also," she continued, "I want the children to be able to enjoy the home and not remember it as always being torn up and worked on."

The spacious home, consisting of a formal living room, dining room, kitchen, walk-in pantry, laundry room, basement, library-parlor, two baths, four bedrooms upstairs, an office or den off the master bedroom plus an attic, and a big backyard, will give the tourist a definite feeling of nostalgia because of the warm atmosphere that surrounds the entire home, making it "just like the home Grandma lived in."

Although the home has two fireplaces, one in the parlor-library and one upstairs in the master bedroom, the Kirschbaums have not had the pleasure of enjoying them.

Besides learning a lot about refurbishing a home, Bonnie and Fred have learned an awful lot about bees since there were five bee hives in the chimney of the fireplace upstairs. Seems the bees have been making a yearly call for the last 10 to 12 years.

Being Fred and their daughter, Katie, are allergic to bees, they had to do something about getting them removed. "We had an awfully difficult time finding anyone who was even interested in taking the job," Bonnie commented, but we finally located a gentleman in Castro Valley who agreed to come and get the bees. The wax and honey still remain in the chimney, but it has to be removed before a fire can be built. "If anyone wants the honey and wax," says Fred, "they are welcome to come and get it."

Fred has planned a strategy for getting the honey and wax and removing it. He will have to romp over the roof top which resemble those in the "Mary Poppins" movie, go eight feet out and 100 feet up where he hopes he will find the honey and wax located closely to the top of the flue. If he has to go down to get at the "nuisance" he feels he is "really in trouble."

The Kirschbaums were aware of the bees when they purchased the house, but not to the extent to which they existed. However, "nothing" would have kept them from buying the home, they stated.

The Kirschbaums had their establishment checked for structure details and was informed it was in "great" shape with very little required for repairs. "They found a little dry rot, normal in most homes," said Fred, "but other than that, the structure was good and sturdy." Extensive plumbing work was required, however.

A uniqueness of this nostalgic home is the method of heating which is extinct in modern day homes, and that is, radiator heating. "It is one of the best ways of heating a home," Fred said they were told, and having lived in the home and had the opportunity to be exposed to the heating system, he is in agreement. "It is quite, clean and you can set the temperature at 70 and be comfortable no matter what part of house you are in," he said.

The Kirschbaums have another interesting problem they are faced with Pigeons. "There are hundreds of pigeons in the trees," Bonnie said, "and they are awfully messy. We have feathers by the tons, not to mention the rest," Bonnie went on. The Kirschbaums have located a pigeon owner and hope to soon have that problem resolved.

The big backyard afforded thd Kirschbaums the pleasure of their own garden this year. You name the vegetable and their garden had it. "It was great for the kids, said Bonnie. "They really enjoyed working with it and see the things grow."

Because of its structure and its historical background, the lovely, dark brown edifice on Neal Street has been selected as one of 14 homes in Pleasanton to be considered as a national historic site.

Participants of the tour will find this home a special extra delight to view.

The Kirschbaum kitchen is airy and light with a double window and white-and-yellow color scheme.

One can just imagine curling up to read a book in this inviting bay-window nook in the parlor. Generous allotment of windows makes the Kirschbaum home a plant-lover's delight, and the mistress of the home obviously takes full advantage of the opportunity to decorate with living greenery.

A circle of cozy warmth is drawn about the Kirschbaum hearth, with deep-piled rug, richly paneled walls and beamed ceilings set off by the bright plaid of invitingly comfortable couches.

Chabot loses third place battle

PLEASANT HILL — An inability to make enough penalty kicks cost Chabot College's soccer team third place in the Diablo Valley College Invitational Soccer Tournament yesterday.

The hosts and Canada College battled for the tourney crown last night. Chabot had tied West Valley in the third place game but the Santa Clara County school missed fewer penalty kicks and won the third place crown. The tie will count on Chabot's record. The Glads are now 4-1-1 for the season.

West Valley started the scoring early in the first half when Al Gasper beat two men and shot the ball in from the right corner.

However, the Glads came right back when Alex Hernandez scored with a corner kick. No more scoring was done for the remainder of the half as both teams played outstanding defense.

Former Dublin High School star Dave Anderson put Chabot ahead early in the second half with a 20-yard shot. It was Anderson's first goal of the season.

West Valley came right back on a breakaway score with less than five minutes left in the contest.

The Glads were knocked out of title contention, 1-0, in a daybreak game with arch-rival Canada.

Chabot had little to be ashamed of after that game, however, as it followed the pattern of previous meetings between the Colts and Glads. After a scoreless first half, Canada broke the ice seven minutes into the second 35-minute half. With a mass of four Chabot defenders in front of him, the Colts Florencio Ramirez took two quick shots, the second finding the net.

But, a hands call against an alert Eric Rudney momentarily revoked the goal. It was to little end, though, as on an ensuing penalty kick, Bronek Glasior grounded the ball to the right of Chabot goalie Steve Hector for the score.

Chabot had two concrete chances to score.

With the game less than two minutes old, Dave Anderson blasted a shot over an empty Colt goal and, with 12 minutes to play, Kelly Clark uncorked a shot right at the level of the crossbar but substitute goalkeeper Jim Amos tipped the ball back over the cage and out of danger.

Canada outshot the Glads, 15-14. Glasior had four shots for the winners, Ramirez three. Chabot's Juan Rodriguez led the game with five scoring attempts.

Tracy rolls over hapless Amador

Shocked early by a field goal of Blanda dimensions, the Amador Valley High Dons spent the rest of the evening trying to mount a consistent offensive attack and letting Tracy High ball carriers scoot through their above-the-waist tackle efforts.

What looked like an even-up non-league contest through two periods dissipated into a blur of broken tackles, wobbly passes and ineffective ground thrusts as the hosting Dons fell to their second straight defeat Friday, 27-0.

John Serpa's initial field goal came six minutes and 50 seconds into the game after tackle Dan Hartenstein had pounced on Ken Carney's bobble at the Amador 25. Serpa belted it through the uprights on fourth down with the ball at the Amador 18.

The Dons made it to mid-field after the kickoff, thanks to a 13-yard ramble over right tackle by Carney. But the Bulldogs wouldn't let the hosts trod on foreign territory and forced a John Sevo punt.

Neither club could move inside the 30 yard stripes until late in the half, though the hosts distinguished themselves by racking up first down on three consecutive plays early in the second quarter.

Falcons edged

The fledgling Foothill Falcons put together a fine defensive effort last Thursday night in Pleasanton, but couldn't come up with an offense to match as Memorial of Newark eked out a 9-0 victory.

The loss dropped the Falcon record to 0-2, but Coaches John Lupoi and Jay Craney have little to be ashamed of as the outmanned and senior-less Falcons battled bigger and more experienced Memorial evenly all night long.

Tony Trujillo, David Ledbetter and Kevin Coyne led the gang-tackling Foothill defense that stopped Memorial cold. The Patriots could muster only 135 yards total offense and their lone touchdown came in the waning moments of the game.

Foothill fell behind with only 9:39 gone in the game as Ledbetter's snap back to leaping punter Mike Colvin slithered through his fingers and out of the end zone for a safety. That 2-0 margin was enough, as it turned out, but Patriot quarterback Randy Wellmaker and receiver Cory Marazita teamed up for a pair of TD passes.

One was called back on a holding penalty.

MSJ backs power over Dublin

Dublin—Whatever dreams of glory the Dublin High School football team may have had early Friday evening were shattered by the end of the game as the banner through which they were supposed to enter at half time as they contemplated a 47-7 trouncing at the hands of a capable and well coached squad of Mission San Jose Warriors.

The banner was shredded by the wind, but it was not the persistent Dublin breezes which ripped asunder the high hopes of the Gael griders. Instead it was the agile and hard driving legs of one Kevin Turner and the bull rushes of Sean Sullivan which drove Dublin into the ground and turned what was a good and exciting football game for just a little more than one quarter into a rout.

The Gaels have not been more soundly trounced since the days when they were playing varsity football without a senior class. For one quarter Dublin looked good. In fact, for a short time it looked as though they might chase the invading warriors right out of the stadium.

Jim Bouleware, a lad who put out a lot of effort for little reward, returned the opening kickoff to the 33 and then rammed off tackle on the first play from scrimmage to the Warrior 23 and a first down, a 44 yard burst which looked easy.

Cliff Johnson, the Gael quarterback kept on the next play and plunged another five to the 18.

At that point Jon Batchelor, a lad with a name right out of an F. Scott Fitzgerald novel, took the handoff on an option and scampered around his own right end for 18 yards and a touchdown.

Sean Mays kicked the extra point and the shamrocks were blooming in Dublin, but not for long.

Mission San Jose took the kickoff to the 28 and began tearing the Gael line apart, ripping off huge chunks of yardage while consuming six plays on their way to their first touchdown. Turner accounted for most of the distances, some 57 yards, the last a sweep around right end which hardly needed his exceptional talent. Dublin fans would get used to those Turner bursts before the night ended. The long and fleet Warrior running back, blessed with the balance of a ballet dancer and the agility of an alley cat, accounted for 248 yards by the time the game ended using 18 carries to accomplish the task for an impressive 14 yard plus average.

Even with their lead evaporated Dublin did not appear to be out of the game.

Dublin took the ball to the Mission San Jose 21 yard line with what looked like considerable ease following the kickoff. From there Bouleware was trapped behind the line after the handoff for a four yard loss then got that back with interest when he accepted a swing pass from Johnson, squirmed, squirted and drove through four tacklers, shaking them all off and was finally stopped on the Warrior four.

One play took Bouleware to the three and the quarter ended there with a 7 to 7 tie.

With third and two a Dublin handoff went awry and Tim Finckle recovered the ball for Mission San Jose and as the cowboy said about his girl friend, "That was all she wrote."

Dublin held for one play, then Sullivan broke to the 15 and a first down. Turner took a pitchout on the option to the 26, Sullivan picked up five and then Turner plunged over the middle for six.

Turner picked up eight but a penalty cancelled that. With 22 yards to go after a 15 yard penalty which set them back to their thirty, Sullivan plunged over the middle for 19 yards, shaking off a half dozen tackles on the way.

From the 45 Turner circled his right end for 30 yards to the 15 Sullivan picked up three, Turner went for a first down on the four and Warrior quarterback Mike Zuniga, who never threw a pass all night, scored on the first play. Curt Yanagihara kicked the extra point and the Warriors had a lead they would never lose.

What happened thereafter was a Dublin comedy of errors and a Warrior field day.

After a clipping penalty on the kickoff set them back to the ten, Cliff Johnson of the Gaels kept the ball, plunged up the middle, found daylight and scampered to the 50 where he lost control of that obnoxious ovoid and batted it downfield with his knee for another ten yards where Mission San Jose recovered on their own 44.

Sullivan and Turner combined to bring the ball down field and Sullivan broke from the five through a line that looked like melted butter into the end zone for a touchdown. The big play on the drive was a 28 yard scamper by the omniscient Mr. Turner.

Score after the successful Yanagihara kick: Warriors 21, Dublin 7. Eight plays and two Dublin penalties later Bouleware took the ball over right guard on a third and 14 play, fumbled as he hit the line of scrimmage and it was Turner, coming out of the defensive backfield who took the ball in the air, cut to his right and ran untouched into the end zone for Mission San Jose. The kick was good and the half ended with a 28-7 score, the Warrior touchdown coming just 9 seconds before the gun went off.

Kelley Turner, Kevin's little brother, tallied the final Warriors score from the six and the game ended, after a blocked kick, 47-7.

San Ramon loses, 21-7

After opening the season with two losing efforts, San Ramon's football team must be wondering what has happened to its offense.

As a result of losing a 21-7 contest to the powerful Berkeley Yellowjackets Friday night in Danville, the Wolves have only nine points to show for their scoring efforts this season.

As it did in the opening loss to Vintage of Napa, San Ramon's defense did a respectable job. One Berkeley touchdown was scored on a run after a fumble recovery and another came on a long dash from scrimmage.

However, the San Ramon offense could only gain 140 yards, 109 of them coming in the air. San Ramon, once known for an awesome running game, could only pick up 31 yards on the ground against a murderous Berkeley defensive line.

Berkeley hit the scoreboard first early in the first period when defensive back Ron Powell scooped up a San Ramon fumble and ran 45 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt was good and Berkeley led 7-0 with 10:49 remaining in the first quarter.

The swift Yellowjackets struck again two minutes later when running back Ricky Taylor bolted 55 yards to pay dirt on a first down play. Fullback Clarence Jackson had rammed 36 yards on the previous play.

San Ramon struck back quickly, however, as linebacker Henry Novarro hit Yellowjacket quarterback Jeff Ransom, causing him to fumble on the Berkeley five-yard line. Novarro picked up the loose ball and bulled over for the Wolfe touchdown. Running back Mike Bowles made the extra point and the Berkeley led 14-7.

San Ramon again threatened late in the second period, driving to the Yellowjacket two-yard line after an interception by Wolfe defensive back Dave McChristy. However, the strong Berkeley defense stiffened and the two teams exchanged the ball once more before the first half ended.

Taylor completed the scoring with a 13-yard reception from Ransom with 6:3 left in the third quarter. The score culminated a 75-yard drive in 11 plays, with Jackson providing most of the yardage.

Mistakes stop Cowboys

The sins of youth cost Livermore High a 22-6 football defeat to visiting Oakdale Friday night, but at least the Cowboy offense vindicated itself with a touchdown after seven quarters of zilch.

Now if the defense would just come around.

"I hate to say it, but we're making dumb, stupid mistakes on defense," Livermore coach Ron Berg complained. "We're young, and we're just too wild yet."

The Cowboys yielded 283 yards to the Mustangs, including 143 yards to tailback Alan Russell.

"The defense has got to improve," Berg insisted. "And it will, or I'll start chewing butts."

Inexperience cost the Cowboys all over the field, helping Oakdale to its scores, and erasing two Livermore touchdowns just 10 plays into the game. Livermore fumbled the ball away on Oakdale's 12 yard line.

In the second period, quarterback Rich Palmer embarked on a breathtaking 65-yard touchdown scamper that was spoiled by a clip-vis, banged in for a score in the third quarter from one yard out.

The Mustangs chewed up 218 rushing yards, but by the Two plays later, Rich hurled a 22-yard bomb to the corner of the end zone that zipped right through the hands of an open receiver.

"We had two gimmies in the first half, but we dropped some passes and we broke down a couple of times on the option," Berg pointed out. But that's going to happen with this offense. There was still a big improvement and we really needed that touchdown. It was important to our offense."

After a shutout at Beyer High last week, and three quarters of zeroes Friday, Palmer scored for Livermore with 2:36 left to play on a five yard dive over left guard. It climaxed a brilliant 13-play drive that was the offensive highlight of Livermore's 0-2 season.

Of course it was meaningless in the context of the game, Oakdale having posted single scores in each of the first three quarters. Fullback Don Valk scored the first from a yard away, and Russell the second on a 34-yard dash in the second period.

Another fullback, Mike Orvis, banged in for a score in the third quarter from one yard out.

Suggestions for Out of Town Buyers Offered by TRI-VALLEY's Singleton

Herb Singleton, office manager for the Pleasanton branch of TRI-VALLEY BROKERS, has some suggestions for home buyers from out of the area.

"There are any number of ways in which prospective residents of a community can find out about the area in which they are considering buying a home," Herb tells us, "and these ways can considerably shorten the time needed to find just the right home in just the right community."

"Obviously, most cities and towns have active Chambers of Commerce which are happy to furnish population statistics, maps, news about community activities, and other information desired by soon-to-be citizens."

Herb points out that most real estate firms, as well as other commercial companies, are generally members of the local Chamber. "Real estate firms can, in addition, provide specific materials geared to the needs of the home buyer. We have available maps indicating price ranges and availability of homes in specific areas," Herb tells us, "and many Realtors will also forward copies of the local newspapers to give his client a preview of the community and assist him in making an intelligent area selection."

All out of the area buyers are concerned with economy, not only regarding money, but also TIME. "Realtors find that the Multiple Listing Service allows the complete home inventory of a given area to be screened, so that when, through correspondence and phone calls, the buyer's needs are determined, his trip to the area for home viewing is put to the best use."

"TRI-VALLEY BROKERS," Herb states, "stands ready to assist in any way with the successful relocation of our clients. With over 50 brokers and associates in the San Ramon-Amador Valleys, our company provides the best in a professional approach to efficient home buying. Polly Carlson and Brian Sherwood, pictured below, are but two of the 50 TRI-VALLEY professionals to serve you."

POLLY CARLSON

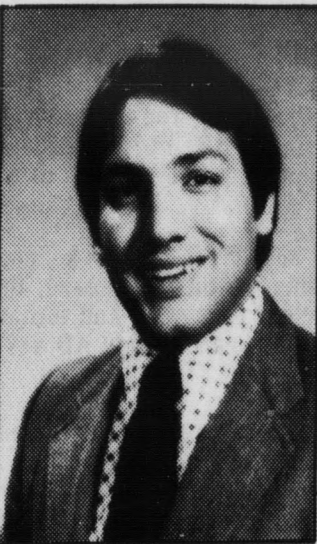

Polly is a five year real estate veteran, and in just the past six months she has closed over $800,000 in sales. "I predict a definite upswing in real estate sales," says Polly, "and am glad to be associated with a firm like TRI-VALLEY." Polly's "Pick of the Week" is a GI special in Dublin at 8303 Cavalier. This 3 bedroom, 2 bath home in a fine area is only $36,500.

According to office manager, Singleton, Brian Sherwood is one of the offices' top producers. A Dublin resident, by way of merrie olde England, Brian was one of the founders of the Dublin Soccer League and one of its most active supporters. Brian's "Pick of the Week" is located at 805 Madeira in Pleasanton's Vintage Hills. This beautiful San Simeon home boasts all the extras, and can be viewed today from 1 until 5. Come see, it's only $56,500.

'New' Granada beats Knights

NEWARK — Were the Granada High football team structured along the lines of an academic class, coach Don Couch would have undoubtedly sent home a rash of progress reports marked "more effort needed" after the Matadors disappointing season opener a week ago.

Friday night, however, an opportunistic Granada eleven raised its grade-point average considerably with a 27-12 win over the host Newark Knights; a startling contrast to its 22-0 loss to Arroyo last Saturday in Livermore.

The difference in the two outings was obvious to Couch: "We went in with a lot better attitude this time, last week the team didn't want to play."

The Mats began Friday's game looking no better than they had six days before as their first two possessions ended in lost fumbles. The second gave the Knights a first and goal at the Granada three.

On third down, fullback Doug Mason fought through the left side of the line and into the endzone for a 6-0 Newark lead with 7:05 left in the first quarter.

Granada tied the score with 5:42 left in the half at the conclusion of a 64-yard, nine-play drive. Vance Rushing, who picked up 43 yards on the previous Mat drive, added 22 more on the scoring march on his way to gaining 86 of his eventual 103 rushing yards in the first half.

Quarterback John Walden got the scoring honors with a four-yard keeper.

After Knight wide receiver James Robinson put Newark back in the lead with an acrobatic catch of a 42-yard pass from QB Fabian Gillcoy, Granada grabbed the advantage in lightning fashion.

On the kick-off following the Knight's TD, Steve Jaeger dashed through the colliding specialty teams and was suddenly running all alone on his way to an 87-yard touchdown.

Monte Vistas' young football team discovered another way to lose a football game Friday night when the St. Marys Panthers took an 8-7 decision on the Mustangs' field.

Monte Vista led in total offense, 167-152, but St. Marys running back Jim Lane, an electrifying lad when given the ball, ramblled for 65 yards

astrograph

by Bernice Bede Ovi

- For Sunday, Sept. 21, 1975
- ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 You'll be highly protective of your self-interests early in the day, but will soon realize you're being too self-centered. Your better instincts will take over.
- TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 Though you could be inconvenienced, you'll feel better if you let compassion rule your actions even if a small personal loss is involved.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 Gentle methods will achieve things for you today that flexing your muscles or raising your voice could never hope to accomplish.
- CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 Praise or recognition are not nearly as important to you today as playing the game by your usually high standards, and enhancing your image.
- LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 Bolster your belief in things spiritual today by seeking inspiration, or meditating quietly on your goals and ambitions.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 This is not a good day to bog yourself down with business matters. Put the account books away. Go off and enjoy yourself.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
 You can make a fine impression on your mate today if you're willing to forego your interests and do the things she'd like to do.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
 Stick to your hunches involving money today. If your instincts warn you about a certain person, it's best not to deal with him.
- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
 Being around larger groups today won't give you the excitement it usually generates. You're better off in quiet pursuits.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 Don't invite anyone to your house today unless you sincerely want their company. They'll take you up on it and a boring day will ensue.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
 Surround yourself today with people who are highly creative and whose conversation is light and inspirational. Avoid those who favor heavy topics.
- PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
 It will be time well spent if you take a few minutes to evaluate your goals for the coming week. Assign priorities. Stick to them.

Your Birthday

Sept. 21, 1975
 A secret desire you've told only a few close friends about will be realized this coming year. It will come about through unusual circumstances.
